    - About
      - This Surah contains 99 verses and is generally believed to be chronologically the fifty-second Surah. It was revealed to the Prophet (S) in Mecca prior to his Migration. The Arabic term 'Hijr' is the name of a town where the people of Hadrat Salih used to live.
        - The name of this Surah, Al-Hijr, is taken from the eightieth verse of it which deals with the people of Salih, saying:

          "And indeed the inhabitants of Hijr (also) rejected the messengers."
          - The name of this Surah, Al-Hijr, is taken from the eightieth verse of it which deals with the people of Salih, saying:

            "And indeed the inhabitants of Hijr (also) rejected the messengers."

      - The Arabic word 'Al-Hijr' is the name of a town in which the nation of Thamûd used to live. It also generally refers to a dwelling place as well. The term /hijr/ also refers to the lap of the mother and Arabic phrase Hijr-i-'Ism a'îl and /hujrah/ are the derivatives of the same word.
  - 16 — An-Nahl (The Bees)
    - About
      - he sixteenth Surah of the Glorious Qur'an which contains 128 verses is called 'Nahl' 'Bees' owing to allusions made in it to the creation of bees.

        Notwithstanding the Qur'an is a Book of Divine legislation, but many of its Suras are named based on creation, such as An-Najm (star), 'Ash-Shams' (the sun), 'Al-Fil' (the elephant), 'Al-'Ankabût' (spider), and 'An-Nahl' (the bee).
        - In some quotations narrated from the Prophet (S), it has been confirmed that he said:

          "He who recites this Surah, Allah will not hold him accountable for the blessings which He has bestowed on him in this world."

          All means will be made available to him to go to Paradise.
